End-user
Overview

This bundle includes the following three items:

1. HIVE Product

HIVE is an industry-leading content management system developed specifically for the AEC industry. Firms can organize, manage, set permissions and ensure the latest content is kept up-to-date and available for all project participants, even when working remotely. Users can find Revit content, AutoCAD, PDF, images, and other file types quickly using libraries, tags, favourites and file metadata.

2. Orientation, Setup and Configuration

Our team will assist in configuring the platform to help you manage your content by migrating files, assign tags and establish your company's settings. In addition, manage users and assign permissions.

3. End-User Overview

In order to get your team equipped with using the tool, our technical specialist will provide a demonstration, showing how easy it is to search, request and manage content requests and learn the basics of using HIVE in Revit.
